The Revenue Act of 1987 requires the following statement to be published: "Membership dues are not deductible as charitable contributions." However, dues may be deductible as business expenses. The Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993 requires that the AASM disclose the percentage of your dues that relate to nondeductible lobbying expenses. The AASM estimates that in 2002, 5% of your dues represent such nondeductible lobbying expenses. You will need to reduce any claimed deduction for AASM dues by this amount.
